Dear Chris Brown:

Thank you for your letter of October 15, 1987, in which you express your concern with respect to people with environmental hypersensitivity.

For the last 20 years of my career I have been working as a communicable disease epidemiologist, and during almost 10 years as the Director General of the Laboratory Centre for Disease Control that was my primary occupation. Accordingly, the matter of environmental hypersensitivity has never come into my field of work and it would therefore be inappropriate for me to provide any cogent response to your letter.

Yours sincerely,

A. J. Clayton, MB, ChB, FRCP(C)
Director General
